Unify Communications

Multiple buildings. A large campus. A remote administrative office. Schools have clamored for a platform to share information online in a controlled and reliable environment. The EduCenter Module from SchoolWorld delivers a private website for all of your district's internal communications.

Value And Fluidity

Can staff members easily access information on critical topics such as internal events, news, benefits, payroll, lesson plans, or technology resources? Or do they rely on someone else to take the time to find the information and send it to them? Then, when the information is sent, is it the most updated version? SchoolWorld's EduCenter Module lets staff access this information on their own, bringing value and fluidity to your district's internal communications. This tool, which acts as an Intranet, streamlines many of your district's communication and material archiving systems so staff time is not consumed by creating, verifying, or tracking the paper trail.

A Feature Rich Base

The EduCenter Module platform is enriched with high-demand features such as calendars, staff directories, filing cabinets, and message boards. Staff members log into a secure site with read-only access to internal communications and files. LDAP functionality is also available so the users can assign one password to all their network logins - i.e., single sign-on. User authorizations for maintaining specific areas of the site can be easily set up and managed as well. In addition, document revision activities such as user, date, and time of revision are noted to help with version control.
