A Goliath

How big is your district's policy manual? How many binders? One school estimated that if they stacked up all their policy manuals and revisions made in just one year, they would have a paper tower two hundred feet high! That's why SchoolWorld created the Policy Now Module, providing instant access to school policies with the ability to make changes quickly and easily.

Where Does It Say That?

With the district's manual trapped on paper, anyone who needs to reference a policy must find an updated copy of the manual and begin the arduous search for a specific section and article. The Policy Now Module makes any policy manual easy to navigate and access, easing the paper burden and eliminating the related costs of maintaining a paper system.

For The Community

By giving the community access to the school district's board policy (or any policy for that matter!) 24x7, the district becomes more transparent. The online manual's intuitive navigation will reflect the district's attention to organization, streamlined processes, and consideration of public information.

For The District

The Policy Now Module allows staff to update information with one click. Navigation is simplified with the dynamic table of contents and keyword search option. This tool also sets up policy information in a printable format.

"You are just awesome people who are an absolute pleasure to work with. I know we are not, by far, the only district/organization you work with, but every time I call or am in contact with you we are treated with such personal and patient assistance that I feel like we are your only client. Thanks, again!"
