A Message With A Voice And Face

The superintendent has a welcome message to deliver to every parent. The Athletics Department wants to showcase the winning soccer goal made in the division finals last night. The librarian needs a video tutorial for students to review. With SchoolWorld's Video On Demand Module, you have the ability to feature pre-recorded events on your school's website. Board meetings, athletics, band concerts, interviews, and personal messages are just the beginning!

Your Gain

Your website gains traffic by increasing the variety of communications on your site. You will in turn attract and hold the attention of more viewers. Your staff gains time because posting a video means delivering a message only once. A meeting recorded on video allows participants to concentrate on the content, not on writing notes. Your school gains peace of mind by giving students access to videos in a safe and secure online environment — with no links to inappropriate material.

Large Storage And Smooth Presentation

With its ability to accept any type of video and convert it to most video formats, the Video On Demand Module is extremely user-friendly. You have the option to implement video on the homepage or have your visitors click thumbnails to select the videos they would like to view. Either way, the Video On Demand Module will store your videos and make them work seamlessly within the layout of your overall website.
