Welcome.

In my twenty years of furniture making I have had the opportunity to experience many projects, furniture styles, and techniques. Nothing has captured my interest and respect quite like the Windsor chair. These classic chairs offer permanence; both in aesthetics and construction. Using the same methods and tools as craftsman three centuries ago, Windsor Chairs offer a direct connection to history and tradition. As a woodworker, few things are more satisfying than designing and constructing a Windsor chair.

The tremendous enjoyment I derive from working on Windsors led me to The Windsor Institute in Hampton, New Hampshire; the only place in the world dedicated to teaching Windsor chairmaking using traditional methods. In 1999, after an apprenticeship with Mike Dunbar – the nation's premier Windsor chair craftsman, I earned the title Master Chairmaker after completing every course offered at the institute.

Now I offer you my knowledge, ability, and dedication to the craft. I welcome the opportunity to make the comfort, elegance, and satisfaction of a Windsor available for you.

Sincerely,

Bill Peck
Master chairmaker

Finishes

Choose your chair, choose your finish. Every Blue Knight Windsor Chair is finished with old-fashioned milk paint. From deep, rich shades to light, airy tints, nearly any color in any hue can be achieved. Colors can also be layered to achieve a naturally aged look. Milk paint is the smart choice. Made from natural materials it's non-toxic and environmentally safe. Or, you can keep your chair "in the blond" with unfinished wood.
